

Julie said...

Julie said, she'd stay just for a while she just broke my heart and walked a hundred mile Julie said, she'd live just for the day she used to smile in her most particular way

Julie said, she might, she might come back again since that day I wait, I wait for her in vain Julie went away, she's torn my heart apart she never drops a line, no letter, no postcard

Julie said, I'll be with you tonight
I took my chance before she could deny it Julie was my girl for just one day until she will return the days are grey

I know, I won't forget her, no I never will since that day I've met her my life got a certain thrill

Every night I dream of her my eyes are open wide maybe one day she might return
I don't know where she hides
