

You don't know

You don't know
What I am looking for

Is it just that thing called love
Do I really care for you enough
Sleepless nights without you
All my thoughts run true

You don't know
What I am looking for

Every minute of my life
I want you to be my wife
But I know our love has gone
I won't get down on my knees
I will find a fiancée
Just before the night has gone

Was it me who's all done wrong
Then I'll try to get along
With all those things to come

I will never point on you
I don't put a spell on you
For all the things gone wrong

You don't know
What I am looking for
