

Irish tune

I'm walking down that road now
And you are always on my mind
I'm sitting in my car now
And it feels, it feels like being blind

You whisper an irish tune
,cause you don't know how to sing
In your blue jacket
You always smiled at me

You went away
For so many days
But now, you're back in this town again
And I know my love has gone

You came around
But no one was there
I just moved to a different place

We'll meet again
In some future land
Where age means less
And I know my love has gone
